County Policy Change Seen in Street Work

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—An ill-fated attempt to improve Broadway in Lemon Grove between Olive and Kempf may be one factor which causes a change in county policy on the formation of "improvement districts."

The County Board of Supervisors this week showed an interest in switching from 1911 act improvement districts to those permitted under a 1913 act, because the latter provides for greater latitude in acquiring needed land.

The delay in obtaining land for widening Broadway, Lemon Grove, was cited as an example of how the 1913 procedure would be better than the 1911 act district.

Under the 1911 act, the district cannot use more than 20 per cent of the funds for any project to purchase rights of way. Thus, landowners opposed to any work can block it if they hold out for the purchase of their property, instead of donating it.

Under such improvement projects, where owners of land in an area get together to push a street-paving, curb or drainage work, most of them donate the required right of way.

Under a 1913 act, there is no limit on the money that can be spent for rights of way. Under this, nobody gives any lands, all are purchased, so all are assessed equally for land.

The switch toward 1913 act improvement districts came up during a hearing on a road and sanitation project in Solana Beach. It was being held up because two property owners would not donate their land. To buy it under the proposed 1913 act district, would have taken more than the 20 per cent.

But under the proposed plan, in a 1913 act, the two recalcitrant property owners will in effect be paying for their own land. The donations previously agreed to will be retracted. All land will be bought, the price will be added to the job, and the assessment will be evenly divided.

Date Set For Vet Exemptions On County Property

Every veteran who desires to receive property tax exemption must file an exemption claim with the county assessor before 5 p.m., Monday, May 2nd. Some who claimed exemption last year may be of the opinion that it is not necessary to re-file. Exemption claims must be made each year, and this year the final filing date is May second.

In California, personal property as well as real property is taxable annually in proportion to its value. Even those who own only household furnishings are subject to assessment.

Assessor John McQuilken has announced that the assessor's office in Civic Center will be open until 9 p.m., on Thursday and Friday, April 28th and 29th, to assist those who are unable to contact the assessor during normal business hours.

Youth Drowns At Grove Girl's Beach Party

A San Diego State College freshman drowned Friday night while attending a birthday beach party for a Lemon Grove girl.

The body of the youth, Glenn Carraway Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Carraway of 5223 Rincon St., has not been recovered.

Glenn was attending a birthday party for Judy Edenfield, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edenfield of 2285 El Prado Ave. The Girls' Ensemble of Mount Miguel High School, of which Judy is a member, and their dates had been invited.

Mr. Robert Boucher, the director of the girls' group, and his wife, were chaperones for the party. Ann Scott, a member of the party, said that about six of the teen-agers were swimming in waist-deep water when they were caught in a rip tide. Judy started screaming as she was swept out, and Susy DeGroot, another of the swimmers who was near her, yelled at her to swim on her back. Judy said, "The last thing I saw of Glenn, he was trying to back away from the waves. The next thing I knew I was being pulled in to shore."

All the other members of the party reached shore safely.

Valley Man Named 1960 'Good Egg'

Howard Keddle of Spring Valley and Ed Clark of La Mesa each were awarded a plaque for being the "Good Egg of 1960" at the annual "Good Egg" breakfast Tuesday at the Redwood Room of the Town and Country Hotel. The affair was sponsored by the Poultry Industry of San Diego County.

The two received their citations for their untiring work in making the annual "Good Egg" breakfasts such a success. Keddle, a radio announcer, has the "Home on the Ranch" program, which is broadcast over KFSD. Clark is manager of the Dairyman's League.

Hart Dunham, Lakeside poultryman, who did a tremendous job last year as emcee, acted in the same capacity this year, keeping the "full house" of guests in an uproar with his dry humor. He introduced Nancy Chandler, Lakeside 4-H club member, who demonstrated uses for eggs and how they tend to make better health for all consumers. She stressed that eggs "should not be boiled, but cooked gently."

Miss Anna Bella Scott

POSSIBLE ROYALTY — Three of Lemon Grove's prettiest girls have entered the contest to select the 1960 Miss Lemon Grove, who will go on to represent the community in the competition for the title of Fairest of the Fair to reign over the San Diego County Fair in Del Mar June 24 through July 4. The girls are Anna Bella Scott, 16, 1915 Ensenada; Dee Anna Anderson, 18, 2814 Massachusetts, and Loxie Lee Johnston, 17, 8020 Imperial.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

The Dane is dead.

Herluf Brydegaard, one of this country's leading architects, died at his home Monday on Helix View drive. He died quietly in his sleep.

He came to this country in 1940 from his native Denmark where he worked as journeyman through all the building crafts as it is required there. As a top-ranking U.S. architect, he never ceased being completely amazed by the waste citizens of his adopted country tolerated in private and public construction.

As architect for the Grossmont high school district he designed recently an addition to an El Cajon Valley school which cost $8 a square foot for construction. Most of his buildings cost district taxpayers approximately $10 a foot. By comparison, Helix, soon after the war when material and labor were still cheap, cost $18 a foot.

His designs were so uncomplicated that contractors, like O. L. Carpenter, who built several Brydegaard-designed schools, said that bidding was simple, construction was easy, and the buildings are functional. These featured added to comfortable bidding which contributed to reduced construction costs.

District officials have stated publicly that three Brydegaard-designed high schools could be built for the cost of two designed by others. Every third Brydegaard high school is free, said one.

This man was uncomplicated. Because of his unpretentiousness it took many persons longer to understand him. His honest approach to problems of life was no different than his simple approach to architectural problems. It was simplicity that created converts and followers of his school designs.

We remember the instance where State Architecture demanded more natural light in classrooms. Other architects devised bigger and more expensive ceiling wells in classrooms. Brydegaard eliminated skylights altogether. He simply installed taller windows and reduced construction costs dramatically.

When hall corridor upkeep became oppressively high some designers controlled the problem by the installation of high cost tile. Brydegaard simply eliminated inside corridors and (Continued on Page 3)

Assemblyman Sees Future Bright for Smaller Cities

State Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland, addressing the Lemon Grove Men's Club last week, predicted that property taxes will become "less important" in future years as other means of taxation become predominant.

He said that a small city, with a relatively low property tax base, would be "in a good position" in those future years.

Hegland skipped rapidly through several topics in his half-hour talk, commenting on:

SMOG—Devices for cars will be mandatory soon, with the big cities pushing for more inclusive laws. "Cov counties" will be able to squeeze through a loophole in a recently-approved law and avoid some of the personal conversion expense.

CHESSMAN—Nobody knows for sure how his latest appeal will come out, but you can get 7-1 odds in Las Vegas that he will die on May 2.

SENATE REAPPORTIONMENT—We don't want it. Passage of the bill would give too much control to Los Angeles and would alienate the northern part of the state at a time when El Cajon Municipal Court Judge R. Fenton Garfield will be guest speaker Friday at the Lemon Grove Men's Club.

Judge Garfield, a candidate for the San Diego Superior Court post now held by Judge Edgar Hervey, will discuss "Our Bill of Criminal Rights," according to John Dail, vice president of the Men's Club.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION—We don't want it. But just opposing it on the basis of creeping control isn't enough. We have to find some way to take taxing power from the federal government and convert it to some means of raising money in this state to aid the schools.

TEXT BOOKS—We're winning the fight to allow local PTAs, citizens and school boards to have something to say about what books are used in local schools. And when the local school boards have to select their own books, maybe some of them will read them.

INCORPORATION—It's too late. You've already had most of your assessed valuation stolen away from you. A bill will come up in the legislature next year which would allow a ballot to contain several choices for the future government of an area instead of only one "plus nothing" as it now does.

'Y' Youngsters To Sell Nuts For Camping

Boys and girls of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area are selling "Butter Toffee Peanuts" from now until May 2 to earn their way to summer fun with the Heartland YMCA, either at Camp Marston in the Pine Hills area or the Heartland "Y" Day Camp at Flinn Springs, according to Bob Meyer, secretary of the Heartland YMCA.

Youngsters who wish to sell peanuts should call the "Y" office at HO 3-3234 for further information.

Lemon Grove to Hold Public Schools Week

Lemon Grove schools open their doors next week for the forty-first annual Public Schools Week sponsored throughout California by the Masonic Lodge. Nearly 4,000 pupils will invite almost 8,000 parents to visit classrooms, attend special programs, and appear at various Open House activities that week.

Golden Avenue hosts parents and patrons on Thursday evening, April 28, from 7:30 to 9. A special student hobby show is scheduled for the cafeteria there.

At Monterey Heights, the open house program is also on Thursday night from 7 until 8:30.

Vista La Mesa combines an open house tour from 6:30 to 7:40 with a regular PTA meeting that Thursday night. Beginning at 7:45, the program also features a fashion show. Elementary pupils at Palm and Mt. Vernon schools are inviting parents to tour the plants from 7 until 8 that night. This will be followed by a Mt. Vernon PTA meeting at the Palm Avenue auditorium. The former Palm PTA is now officially called Mt. Vernon. Pupils currently enrolled at Palm will attend the other school in September.

San Miguel features an Open House on Thursday evening, April 28. San Altos and the junior high school both plan daily observations during regular school hours with no evening activities. At all schools, printed programs of regular schedules and/or special programs will be sent home with students.

This year's Public Schools Week's theme is "Our Public Schools—Know Them, Support Them, Strengthen Them." The observation runs from April 24 through April 30. General state chairman is Dr. Vierling Kersy, former superintendent of public instruction.

School Officials To Address Employee Group

Thomas H. Gould, attendance auditor for the Grossmont union high school district, and Fred H. Lance, business manager for the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district, are to speak at a general meeting of the La Mesa-Spring Valley Classified Employees Assn. at 7:30 p.m., April 28.

President Bob Jones of the employees group said the meeting would be held at La Mesa elementary school. He said that Gould, who is treasurer of the Grossmont Federal Credit Union, would describe the functions and advantages of a federal credit union to individual employees. Lance is to speak on the forthcoming school district tax override and state support authorization election June 7.

Daylight Savings Time Starts Here Sunday at 2 a.m.

Everybody around here gets up an hour earlier starting Sunday when this area goes on Pacific daylight saving time.

Of course there will be the same number of hours to be spent in bed, after the first night, because your clock will tell you it's bed-time an hour earlier.

Daylight savings time goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday but the ingenious time-watcher will set his clock ahead one hour when he retires Saturday night. On getting up Sunday, presto, everything is in tune with the new time.

The original time change was once connected with the vernal and autumnal equinox. These dates are March 21 and September 23; the time when the sun's center crosses the equator and night and day are everywhere of equal length.

According to John Fuller, meteorologist for the U.S. Weather Bureau, the dates were changed (only the time change, not the equinox) by the state legislature. They chose the date most compatible with the season and the taxpayer's urge to get out doors. They decided the last Sunday in April was the proper time to start daylight savings and the last Sunday in September is when they would end it.

Fuller said the U.S. Weather Bureau had no authority or responsibility for setting daylight savings time dates . . . but he said he thought it was a good idea.

Civic Center Wing Addition to Cost More than Expected

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Addition of a third floor on the county's wing at Civic Center will cost about $30 per square foot for 11,000 square feet of area, or $330,000, it was reported last week.

The estimate is far above what Supervisors expected it to be. But the reported price did not come up in open session of the Board.

The Board, on space problems at Civic Center, sent to the San Diego City Council a proposal from Dr. Willis H. Miller, county planning director, for construction of two new wings, of two buildings in the parking areas and the purchase of land across Pacific Highway, for parking and other buildings.

To Work Together For Solution to Recreation Needs

Swimming Pool, Youth Center Groups in Too

The Lemon Grove Coordinating Council joined forces with the Lemon Grove Taxpayers Assn. this week to probe methods of obtaining recreational facilities for the area.

The Taxpayers last week voted to set up a committee which would include representatives of the Swimming Pool Assn., the Youth Center and the Coordinating Council. The Council at its Monday night meeting accepted the offer to join forces.

On the committee are the presidents of the groups: C. H. (Les) Benson of the Taxpayers, Frank Doolin of the Swimming Pool Assn., Frank Armstrong of the Youth Center, and—probably, though no official representative was named—the Rev. E. Walter Smith of the Coordinating Council.

Smith, presiding Monday night, commented "If we can all pool our resources and work together, maybe we will get someplace."

Last fall, the Coordinating Council sponsored a move to set up a recreation district in Lemon Grove. The issue failed at the polls, and the Taxpayers Assn. took credit for the defeat—saying then and since that its members worked against formation of the district because the proposal "did not spell out what we would spend the money for, and offered a blank check to the commissioners to tax us to death."

The Taxpayers also vowed an interest in youth and in recreation "but along some line that the people can control."

Last week they passed a resolution asking the County Board of Supervisors to improve the county park property at Washington and Alton streets so local citizens could put in picnic facilities.

Action came surprisingly fast. The next day the supervisors ordered the public works department to negotiate for just such an improvement.

This week's combining of forces of the interested groups was hailed as "the beginning of an action that could bring Lemon Grove some recreational facilities after years of waiting."

College Center To Form Chamber Group

College Grove Shopping Center, with the first section of the project scheduled to open July 14, will form its own chamber of commerce, it was announced this week by spokesmen for the center.

A merchants' organizational meeting will be held May 17 at which time by-laws will be considered.

The section to be opened in July includes the Walker Scott store.

CLUB PRESIDENT MARKS GOLDEN WEDDING DATE

The Mt. Helix High Twelve Club will celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of its president, Ray Lynch, this week.

An anniversary cake will be cut by fellow Masons at the meeting at Michael's Thursday. Lynch and his wife live at 1847 Wedgemere rd., El Cajon.

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL...

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

The weather turned hot and people began muttering to themselves and to me about the heat.

"Whew!" they would say, mopping nonexistent beads of sweat off their brows.

"Hot?" I would reply. "This ain't hot! This is just right." And people would look at me as though they thought I was crazy.

But I remembered Imperial Valley.

I used to live down there.

In the heat.

Man, even the icicles are hot down there.

Summer comes and you have to learn not to walk fast or you will wear long sleeves in the summer, with your collar buttoned up to keep the hot sun off you. And you have to wear a hat.

The heat gets inside you, into your blood stream and into your bones. It gets into your spirit, making you irritable, but too sluggish to argue with anybody.

And with the heat comes the dryness and with the dryness comes the dust. Gritty dust that mixes with your sweat and gets into your eyes and your hair and down your neck inside your shirt and inside your shoes.

And when you stand in front of the mirror in the morning to shave it already is so hot that sweat drips down through the shaving cream on your face. You can't use an electric razor because your face is too wet.

If you have air conditioning, it's just as uncomfortable in an office after you get used to the comparative coolness. And when you step outside it's like stepping into an oven.

Hot around here?

Heck no. Around here, it gets just comfortably warm in the summer. Just warm enough so you can lazy around under a tree with a cool drink and feel comfortable. Too warm maybe for running races, but most of us are too old for running anyway. Just warm enough for comfort.

And these warm days that we have been having lately... I darn near freeze to death.

DOROTHY DIGGS in the garden

When your camellias have finished blooming, before you give them their clean-up spray for the coming summer, give a little attention to the soil in which they grow.

Use a handful of agricultural sulphur around each plant, impregnating it into the soil with a small pronged fork so that you do not disturb the tender fiber roots growing close to the surface.

Scatter a little iron and use a trace element product to give your camellias strength to go through the hot summer months. Feed them with a good camellia food and then spread your humus to protect the roots from the coming of the summer months.

I have found rabbit manure to be excellent for camellias if you can procure it. Use it more lightly and more frequently than you use other humus.

When you have renovated the soil, spray the camellias thoroughly with a light oil emulsion containing nicotine. Starting them off into the summer clean is essential to the health of the plants.

LACKLAND AFB, Tex. — Airman Alfred B. Deforge, son of Mr. Sidney Neff of 9273 Carthay Circle, Spring Valley, has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training here. The Mail Box

For years Mr. Bird has been stalling and hemming and hawing to keep from doing anything for our Lemon Grove Area.

This being an election year, and Mr. Bird having drawn an opponent from this area, the first in his twenty year Reign as Supervisor, suddenly decides maybe something can be done, if the residents of the area really show they mean business. What do people have to do to convince Mr. Bird that they mean business? They have had many fund raising activities, with all groups in the area joining together to get the job done. I worked in booths a couple of years, I know the people mean business. A supervisor who is supposed to know what is going on in his district would have recommended and had a park site well over 10 years ago. Mr. Bird's 20 years as supervisor apparently hasn't given him much foresight.

I should like to tell the people a story about land donated for a county park over the hill from you and what was done. We had promises and visions too! If and when I am invited to your Taxpayer Association meeting I shall tell this story.

I notice taxes are not supposed to go up this year, due to growth in building and influx of people we're going to have a surplus of over $2,000,000. Statistics show we have had one of our poorer years, for jobs, growth, etc. How come taxes have gone up at all in the last ten years then, with all these extra taxes we've been getting?

County Roads in this district are in deplorable shape, as far as the safety of our people on the roads are concerned. Sometimes a simple white line down the middle of a black topped road would be greatly appreciated on a heavy foggy night. This has not been done. Certainly a small thing like this would not even be noticeable in the budget — paint and elbow grease is all that is needed.

Since I've come out with most of my platform, my opponent seems to have adopted a "me too" attitude. He's ready to do some of things I have advocated, because now it's nearing election time and he desperately needs votes in this locale. After a long period of doing nothing and promises that meant nothing, can you be convinced now?? Don't fall for "political fool duggery." Remember the past, look at the record.

Sincerely,
AL KEEBLER
Candidate for Supervisor
2nd District.

British Officer To Address Youth Of Presbytery

Major Ian Thomas of England will be the guest speaker at the First Presbyterian Church, Fourth and Date Streets, San Diego, for a week of special meetings beginning Sunday. He will be the fifth featured speaker in the 1959-1960 Youth Emphasis Series at the church being held at 7:30 Sunday through Friday in the church sanctuary.

Major Thomas was first commissioned into the British Territorial Army, Royal Fusiliers, in 1933 as an infantry officer, and was recalled from reserve at the outbreak of World War II, to serve seven years from Dunkirk to the end. He saw service in Belgium, France, North Africa, Egypt, Palestine, Italy, Greece, and Germany.

During the last few years of the war he became concerned for young people and had a desire to establish a Christian Conference Centre with the object of presenting the full claims of Jesus Christ to all believers. After he was released from service he acquired Capemray Hall in the northwest of England near the Scottish border. Since then some 25,000 British young people have attended these conferences, and some 2,500 young people from Germany. The Christian work has developed into the Capemray Missionary Fellowship of Torchbearers.

Shoe Man's Quick Action Saves Lady's Electric Car

Quick thinking on the part of a Lemon Grove shoe shop owner probably saved the electric auto of Verna Sawyer, the attractive little 80ish lady who is a favorite of the community.

Mrs. Sawyer parked her Autoette in front of Ray Purtee's Shoe Store at 7741 Pacific st., Thursday to go to the library next door. While she was in the library, the car's electric system shorted, setting fire to upholstery. Purtee pulled out the seat of the car, doused water on it, and extinguished the blaze.

He then corrected the short-circuit, and Mrs. Sawyer was able to drive her electric car home.

Juvenile Delinquents To Pay for Room, Board

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Juvenile delinquents are going to have to pay room and board to the county hereafter, at prices that would get deluxe accommodations at a resort hotel.

The County Board of Supervisors voted to put a $12.42 per day tag on stays at Juvenile Hall and one of $12.37 per day at Hillcrest Receiving Home. The former is for boys; the latter for girls.

The Board's action was taken on the recommendation of T. M. Heggland, chief administrative officer, who told Supervisors this was the cost for taking care of inmates. Heggland had first proposed a flat $6 per day, but he changed his recommendation at the Board session.

The rates charged by other counties vary widely, Heggland reported. He said Los Angeles put a price of $13.79 per day on keeping its delinquents, while Sacramento charges only $2.50. He suggested that San Diego charge at cost, to see what its experience will be.

"Isn't this an attempt to make parents responsible?" asked Supervisor David W. Bird. The Board agreed it was, and voted unanimously for the new charges.

In the history of office-holders, few have ever tried to save their country by resigning.

the problem at one fell swoop. He designed classrooms back-to-back, put the corridors outside as covered porches, and in the process eliminated costly grid-type utility lines. His were simple, in-line installations.

He designed more than 24 schools in San Diego county before he died. He turned down numerous requests from other districts in the state because his low-cost, highly-functional designs were so much in demand.

Those who knew Herluf Brydegaard personally, will sorely miss him. In education circles he will be remembered for generations for his contributions to better school designs and lower school construction costs.

As a professional man he commanded respect. As a human he was well loved because he was uncomplicated.

The wheels of government, by which recreation facilities are obtained, have finally produced a small, but desirable area of agreement.

Because of the accord, it is very likely that the three-and-a-half acres of county-owned land at Washington and Alton sts. in Lemon Grove will be made into a park, one suitable for family-type relaxation with emphasis on hog-dog cook-outs.

The Lemon Grove Coordinating Council, after nearly a year of activity, lately was joined by the L.G. Taxpayers Assn. in asking County Supervisor Bird to order the Co. Parks and Beaches Dept. to make the property ready for a park.

The property was purchased by the county for park use when the Bradley-Burns sales-tax Act became effective several years ago. At that time it was the philosophy of our lawmakers that half of the cent being added to the sales tax burden of unincorporated areas would be refunded to the areas from which it was being collected.

Supervisor Bird ordered the Washington-Alton property to be purchased with the first skimming of the funds for two reasons. First, he was keeping his promise to return part of the tax (though none has been returned since) and second, it adjoined the property owned by the L.G. Swimming Pool Assn. The combined properties amounts to seven acres and would make a handsome recreation set-up.

Since the acquisition of the county-owned property, the philosophy of returning Bradley-Burns tax money underwent a complete reversal. That ended sales tax being earmarked for local expenditure . . . but nothing had been done about the park property that was already in public ownership. One reason has been the lack of unity among persons who claim an interest in youth and recreation.

It appears now that sufficient numbers are in agreement, finally. It may also be that local leadership is deemed to be of sufficient stability and sincerity upon which to mount a park project.

In any event, the order has been given to clear the land for park purposes, the first stirrings of county government since the property was purchased in October 1957.

The population census has been taken and every one of our considerable number of readers has been counted, we trust.

There is a reassuring feeling in being counted as an American and knowing you are at least a digit in the grand total which will soon be released by the Bureau of Census.

Our country is growing at the rate of nearly 3,000,000 souls a year. In 1958 the Census Bureau estimated the country's population at 174,064,000.

The 1960, or Decennial, Census as it is called, will show California with the greatest population growth. It should show Texas as having the greatest industrial growth.

An interesting product of the census-taking is that U.S. the count affecting reapportionment will be certified to the Representatives to Congress are allotted on the basis of population forecasts made by the Census Bureau. The results of President of the U.S. by the Bureau. The President will then inform Congress of the population total. Congress then has 15 days in which to accept or reject the figures. If Congress does not act the new apportionment will be effective in the Congressional election, November 1962.

We suppose the 1960 census will be referred to as the "bath room count" since considerable attention is being given to leaving about these household niceties.

The Census Bureau will know about your kitchen as well as your toilet, your bath, and your hot and cold running water.

We feel no compunction at all about letting Uncle Sam know our income, our debts, and other personal data as demanded through the Department of Internal Revenue but our bathroom and our plumbing, it seemed to me, are embarrassingly personal.

Fortunately, Dr. Kinsey wasn't called to help with preparing the census questionnaires.

Library Week, an erudite section of our existence, was observed locally amid a flurry of attention here last week but there are those who admit to it being less than an unqualified success.

Ruth Pedler, local librarian, said circulation-wise, a new record was hung up by the Lemon Grove branch of the County Library system. During National Library Week it was ascertained that the L.G. branch had topped the La Mesa branch in circulation for March. During that month, she said, the local branch loaned out three volume less than 19,000.

This is more a measure of population than a surge of literacy, some observers believe. This reasoning is superinduced by the fact that in March, a record was set for books being stolen from the library. More than 25 expensive, research-type books have been removed from the library so far this year, Mrs. Pedler reported.

Probably the most unusual incident came from a library patron who took a valuable encyclopedia without registering it. It was returned by mail during Library Week without a clue as to who sent it. Forty pages in the back of the book had been carefully clipped out.

It could have only been an avid student of Xenias, Yaks and Zebras.

HAWAII BOUND — Pretty Linda Walters, 8170 Imperial, Lemon Grove, an accounting clerk at the Lemon Grove branch of the U.S. National bank, was selected winner in a bank sponsored contest. The prize is an all-expenses paid trip to Hawaii for two. Larry Folda, president of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce, officiated at the ceremony earlier this week at the bank where the award was made. Miss Walters won the contest which was based on bringing in new business to the bank. Each employee had to bring in $5,000 worth of new business to be eligible. Of 21 U.S. bank branches, 19 qualified with a total new business intake exceeding $7 million. Original goal was $5 million. Other employees who qualified at the L.G. branch were Wilma Costello, Joel Hastings, R. L. Maxwell, R. P. Dryden and William B. Paul. The latter is manager of the branch. Dryden is assistant manager. Miss Walters said she would take a former schoolmate, Miss Georgia Moore of Mt. Helix, with her on the trip. Both girls attended Mt. Miguel high school.

Open House Activities Eyed by High Schools

High schools of the Grossmont Union High School District have set dates for special observance of Public Schools Week, in conjunction with regular PTA meetings.

Grossmont and Mt. Miguel will hold open house on April 27. El Cajon has scheduled a similar activity on April 21, and El Capitan and Helix high schools held theirs on April 7. Public Schools Week is set from April 24-30, and Grossmont District schools observe the occasion at different times to avoid conflicts with activities in elementary and junior high schools.

Mt. Miguel high school will have open house from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on April 27. After a brief PTA meeting in the cafeteria, guests will be free to visit the classrooms. Teachers will be present to talk about the courses they teach. Special exhibits of students' work will be presented, and skits and demonstrations for entertainment and to show methods of instruction. All these activities will emphasize the theme "Our Public Schools: Know Them, Support Them, Strengthen Them."

El Cajon's open house will begin at 7:30 April 21 with a brief PTA meeting in the cafeteria and will feature exhibits in the industrial arts, art, and home-making departments. The radio-electronics department will present electric demonstrations, and the homemaking department will present a fashion show, modeling garments made by students.

Grossmont high school's Public Schools Week open house will feature their ninth annual art show, sponsored by the La Mesa Jr. Women's Club. Prizes will be awarded to winner in art I, design, photography, crafts, commercial art, and advanced art by Walter Barnett, principal, after judging by John Dirks, professor of art at San Diego State College, and the GHS art teachers, Carol Lebeck, Marj Hyde, and Elsie Reed.

At Helix High, girls physical education department students demonstrated folk dancing and the trampoline. The choir is rehearsing an operetta, and parents attended rehearsals. There were displays in all classrooms, and teachers were present to talk with visitors.

Short Shots...

Helix seemed to be the only team to come through for this writer who picked San Diego, defending champion; El Capitan, the Metro League's only undefeated team in league action; Crawford, a dark horse; and Grossmont to be in the scuffle for the crown, and the Scots came through with flying colors with the championship...

In the much controversial pennant chase in the major leagues, I'll stick with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox to repeat last year's championships. Cleveland and Detroit probably will be the thorn-in-the-side for the White Sox, while San Francisco and Milwaukee are tabbed to give the Dodgers a run for their money, and I'm still looking for the Washington Senators to climb up the steps out of the American League cellar and surprise many people...

In the Pacific Coast League, Spokane seems to be the best guess for the title with San Diego's Padres being the "sleeper"...

Tuesday in the American League's traditional opener at Washington, the Senators clobbered the Boston Red Sox, 11-1, with the Sox' only tally coming on Ted Williams' first hit of the season—a home run... Bill Ott.

Grove Insurance Man Named Tops In Nation

A. E. (Bob) Howell, Lemon Grove accountant and insurance agent, has been named the nation's top salesman for Midwest Life Insurance Co. for the month of February.

John Allen, district general agent for the company, said that Howell's accomplishment was "phenomenal, considering the fact that he was deep in the middle of his income tax accounting business at the time."

There are about 300 agencies of the company throughout the nation.

RELAXING TIME

The soft, delicate wood tones of west coast hemlock used as paneling for the family room create a friendly, relaxing atmosphere where the tensions of the day are soon lost.

Proceeds from the event will go to the San Diego County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Many top riders will perform on the racing card, including Pierre Raby, winner of the recent Tecate Grand Prix; Ralph White of El Cajon, Cecil Hollenbeck of San Diego and Bob Skipstead of Los Angeles.

Two-Hit Pitchin Aids Capture of Tournament

By Bill Ott Jr.

A fine two-hit pitching effort by Helix High's sophomore hurler George Sherrod against the Hoover Cardinals enabled the Scots to capture the Lion's Invitational Baseball Tournament Unlimited Championship in play last week.

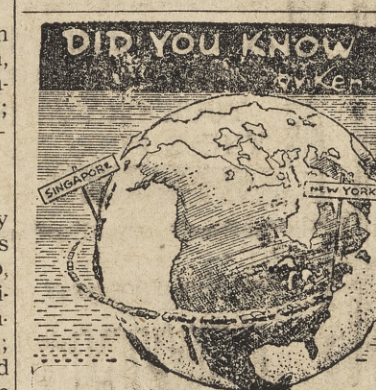

In the Wednesday afternoon championship finale, the Highlanders got to Hoover chucker Dave Morehead for 5 runs on 4 hits for the victory.

Helix advanced to the championship berth with 5-1 victory over the Saint Augustine Saints in Monday's opener with Martin on the hill, and swept 2 games Tuesday with a 5-0 nod over the El Cajon Braves and a narrow 3-2 thriller over E. Capitan's Vaqueros.

John Lippert limited the Braves to 2 hits in the quarter-final match, and Sherrod with help from Lippert held the Vaqueros to 2 hits in the semi-final tilt.

Gary Johnson's double in the fourth inning produced a run, and a 4 run outburst in the sixth inning proved to be fatal for the Cards.

Fainting-from-Hunger Reports Said Exaggerated

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Reports of children fainting at local schools because they have no lunches were greatly exaggerated, the County Board of Supervisors has been told.

Board Chairman Frank Gibson reported that the Community Welfare Council now agreed that there are no starving children in the county, although some may be in need.

Supervisor De Graff Austin, who had asked for a survey on the methods used to decide 1,600 school students are in need of lunches, withdrew his suggestion.

Austin said there is now general agreement that the survey reporting the hungry children had been "a hit and miss" kind of survey and that proper questions had not been asked.

The Board, which has maintained it can only provide funds for children's lunches by "getting around" the law, voted to file additional requests received Tuesday for county action to aid the children.

At present, funds are available for the children of families on welfare, but the Board maintains it would have to delegate authority to school officials to determine if additional needy exist, or would have to give away county funds, which is illegal.

A. F. Franz, Colorado Industrialist: "It will be necessary for us to face foreign competition with improved equipment and low operating costs."

Mangano-Guinan Wedding Vows Said in Stockton

Miss Patricia Theresa Guinan and Mario Theodore Mangano were married recently in Stockton, in the Church of the Annunciation.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Guinan of Stockton and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mangano of Lemon Grove.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a simply-styled gown of delustered satin fashioned with a wide v-neckline, long tapering sleeves, and a sweeping skirt that fell to a chapel train. Seed pearl medallions outlined the neckline and dropped in panels from the hips to the hem of the train. A snug pearl cap held her fingertip veil, and she carried an arrangement of white stephanotis centered with a large orchid.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Marian Mangano of San Diego served as maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Martha Ann was bridesmaid. Lance Stoll of San Diego was best man, and Thomas Lewis of Seattle was usher.

The reception was held in the Guinan home where the couple cut a three-tiered cake iced with touches of violet. The young couple then left for a leisurely trip down the coast to San Diego where they are establishing residence.

The former Miss Guinan graduated from St. Agnes Elementary School and Ursuline Academy in Cincinnati, Ohio. Upon returning she attended Stockton College and then accepted employment in San Diego as a stenographer.

Her husband graduated from St. Augustine High School and Loyola University as a business administration major. He served six months with the National Guard and is employed in San Diego.

Officers Named For Movie Conference

The East County Movie Conference Continuing Committee attracted 16 members to its first meeting last week in La Mesa. Major subject at the initial get-together was how best to attack the problem of unsuitable films being shown children and youth, and the advertising practices in connection with these pictures.

Mrs. George Birch of La Mesa, president of the Foothills Secondary Council, PTA, presided, and Mrs. Leo Ness of El Cajon, president of the Tierra del Sol PTA, was named temporary chairman starting with the next meeting. Mrs. A. W. Wright of La Mesa, movie chairman of the L.M. junior high PTA, was named secretary. The new officers will be seated at the next meeting scheduled for May 9 in El Cajon.

At the meeting last week Claude Kenner, manager of the Helix theatre in La Mesa, explained the part played in the movie business by producers, distributors, exhibitors and the viewers. He expressed sympathy with the group's point of view.

A sub-committee was requested by Rev. Gottfried H. Hoffman, of La Mesa, pastor of the St. Luke's Lutheran church. The group intends to expand its membership and take a positive approach to the youth-movie problem, according to Mrs. Lucille MaMahon, Lemon Grove representative to the Conference.

Eldora Street Project Okayed

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Improvement of Eldora street, Lemon Grove, with curbs and sidewalks was approved Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors, despite charges that costs for the project had been "misrepresented" when petitions were being circulated.

The Board's hearing Tuesday was one continued from March, after property owners at one end of the street said they didn't want to be included because they already had sidewalks and didn't need the curbs.

Owners of the property are to pay for the project over 10 years, under formation of a 1911 improvement act district.

State College Readies 63rd Anniversary Fete

San Diego State College's 40 educational departments this week were readying their laboratories and classrooms for a seven-day observance of the college's 63rd anniversary.

A joint student-faculty program is being planned that will extend from Sunday, May 1, until Saturday, May 7. Dr. Lauren C. Post, professor of geography, is faculty chairman. Kendall Squires, sophomore, is student chairman.

The program will include exhibits and demonstrations of educational hardware, a calendar of varsity athletic events, an intercollegiate debate, symphony concerts and an art festival.

Two highlights will be the traditional Founders' Day open house, scheduled for Sunday, May 1, and the popular student Spring Sing, scheduled for Friday, May 6.

According to Post, the Sunday program will offer an impressive variety of activities designed to please all ages. The open house, running from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., is open to the public without charge.

Visitors, said Post, will study the heavens in the college planetarium, handle radiation counters, and witness such scientific procedures as spectrophotometric analysis. They will hear the recorded voices of the great poets, will check out their own reading skills, and make their own photographic enlargements.

They will check out the newest electronic devices used in foreign language instruction, study maps and documents dating from the 16th century, witness a startling chemical demonstration, and learn how psychologists measure intelligence, personality and other human traits.

Demonstrations of creative and folk dancing, performances by the male quartet and Brass Choir, and a display of modern missile might will constitute other facets of the 90-event program.

Included in the Founders' Week sports calendar will be a home baseball game Friday, May 6, with Loyola University and a double header, Saturday, May 7, with Long Beach State. There will be two home tennis meets—Long Beach State, Wednesday, May 5, and Cal Poly, May 6. The CCAA track championship meet will be held on the Aztec oval, Saturday, May 7.

Chest X-rays are taken of persons 21 years of age and older. Persons under 21 will not be X-rayed, except for those from 15 to 21 who are referred to the department by a private physician on the basis of a positive intradermal tuberculin skin test. The Dept. of Public Health also takes X-rays of any person who is required by an ordinance to have a chest X-ray taken.

Spring Valley Couple Conduct 'Deaf Church'

A church for the deaf is the life work of Loren and Lucetta Mae Kibby, who live in Mt. Miguel Terrace at 8602 Bigford St., Spring Valley.

Mr. Kibby first became aware of the loneliness of the deaf and their yearning to hear, particularly the sermons at church, because of having deaf parents. He learned lip reading and sign language so that he could communicate with his parents and is now using this technical knowledge in his pastorate for the Deaf Section of the Del Cero Baptist church.

Mr. Kibby was born in San Jose, served in the U.S. Navy in 1942, went to college and took a pre-medical course in X-Ray and Laboratory work. For a few years he worked as a medical technician. He is now working for encouragement of the deaf in the aid of hearing and for the alleviation of deafness through medical treatment and surgery. He studied for the Baptist ministry and started his church work 10 years ago.

There are about 25 members of his congregation, and the service, while open to any who wish to attend, is geared especially for the deaf members. He says there are about 250 totally deaf people in San Diego County, and many more also with defective hearing. He says many who have hearing aids come to the service. He speaks orally for the benefit of those who can see and also for those who can read lips as well. Occasionally, he says, they have "hearing" visitors.

Mrs. Kibby aids her husband in teaching the Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. The regular service is held at 10:45 a.m. each Sunday. Mrs. Kibby learned the sign language from her husband in order to assist him in his work. The couple have three children, all of whom have normal hearing.

Members of the Jehovah's Witnesses of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will join with San Diego and Imperial counties congregations for a three day assembly at Del Mar fair grounds May 20-22.

"Seek Peace and Pursue It" is the assembly theme. The program planned will give all the estimated 2,500 attending practical Bible instruction for pursuing peace. Twenty local ministers will share the speaking program," stated Carl E. Jones, presiding minister of the local congregation.

The assembly is of a non-denominational nature and the public is invited to all sessions. The Watchtower Bible Society which sponsors these programs is now represented in 175 lands and prints non-sectarian Bible literature in 128 tongues.

Human nature changes slowly; about all that you can do, in the effort, is to improve your self.

Jesus admonishes in his Sermon on the Mount as given in the King James Version of the Bible, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect" (Matt. 5:48).

Lemon Grove Lutheran

Women from Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will attend the annual spring convention of the Southland Circuit Women's Missionary Federation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church to be held Tuesday at Clairemont Lutheran Church, 4271 Clairemont Mesa Drive, San Diego. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Theme for the convention will be, "What Ought We To Be."

The morning session will convene at 10 a.m. and will be presided over by Mrs. Erling Jacobson, Chula Vista, who heads the Federation. Pastor Clifford Larson, host pastor, will deliver the sermonette.

The Evangelical Lutheran churches of Lemon Grove, Hemet, San Clemente, Phoenix, Tucson, Chula Vista, La Jolla and San Diego comprise the Southland Circuit.

Convention worship offering will go to California Lutheran College Library and Brazil Missions.

Spring Valley First Baptist

"A Foundation for Life" will be Rev. Roland Taylor's text at the morning services (8 and 11 a.m.) at Spring Valley First Baptist. In the evening he will be speaking on "A House Not Made with Hands."

There will be a special business meeting April 29 for church members to adopt a constitution. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Christian Science

Striving for spiritual perfection gives life new meaning and purpose as explained in the lesson-sermon on "Probation After Death" at all Christian Science services on Sunday. The Golden Text from Matthew (24:13) declares, "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved."

Jesus admonishes in his Sermon on the Mount as given in the King James Version of the Bible, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect" (Matt. 5:48).
